Letters have been sent to the clubs of the sixth district inviting their attendance and of

HONEST ADVICE TO CONSUMPTIVES.

Somehow there exists a vast amount of skepticism as to the possibility of curing Consumption. We state none but facts, and are anxious to walk with you. If ourselves afflicted with Tuberculosis, we should do this. The reason we have for asking all Consumptives to take it, is that we have the reports of many cures, one of which follows: 1619 Susquehanna Ave., Phila., Pa. Gentlemen: "For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, the number totaled nearly one hundred. Our family physician advised another climate, as to remain would probably be fatal; however, I remained, and in February of 1907, I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered sufficiently to walk about the house I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which no medicine I had taken could alleviate. I was again advised to go to another part of the country. It was at this time, March, 1907, that I learned of Eckman's Alternative. In a short time my cough was gone and I was pronounced well cured. Since that time I have had two slight attacks of pneumonia and I have resorted to no other medicine to effect a cure. I am at present in excellent health and feel that as long as I can obtain Eckman's Alternative, I have no fear of Consumption. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done for me." (Signed) HOWARD L. KLOTZ, Eckman's Alternative cures Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Affections. For sale by A. G. Loken & Co., and other leading druggists. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for additional evidence.

course the home club should show a large membership of deeply interested women."

COLLEGIATE CLUB.

A meeting of the Woman's Collegiate club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edgar Hilt in South Sixteenth street. The principal paper for the afternoon was read by Mrs. Edward H. Harris and was entitled "Staging of the Modern Drama." She gave comparisons of the earlier and more modern methods with reference to the productions put on in early times and those in early times and today. An account of the federation of clubs convention in this city it was decided to hold the next meeting next week at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Bartel.

HELPING HAND SOCIETY.

A pleasant meeting of the Helping Hand society was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. F. Kolp, in South Sixteenth street. The afternoon was spent socially and with needlework. Sixteen members were in attendance. The guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Daniel Burkhardt, Mrs. Thomas, Miss Julia Thomas and Mrs. Louis Hasecoster. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served. Next Thursday afternoon Mrs. Chris Lichtenfels, will entertain the society.

CLOSES ITS SESSIONS.

The D. A. R. state conference which has been meeting in this city for the past three days closed its deliberations today. The gathering has been in every way most successful, the visitors are most hearty in their compliments on the hospitality of General James Cox chapter and of the city at large, and the home people have been charmed with the graces of their guests.

The session this morning was one of very great interest. Reports of various committees were made by their chairmen—Miss Julia Landers on Patriotic Education, Mrs. Frank Felter on Huntington on The Children of the American Revolution, Mrs. William H. Stokes of this city on Child Labor, Mrs. Rose H. Stewart of Stewart on Children of the Republic, Mrs. S. E. Perkins of Indianapolis on the D. A. R. Flag and Miss Eliza Browning of Indianapolis on the Historical Work. Interest centered largely in the election of officers and the selection of a place for next year's meeting. Indianapolis extended an invitation to the conference to hold its next meeting in that city and it was decided to take the conference there. The election of officers resulted in the re-election of regent, vice regent and treasurer, namely: Mrs. J. Lee Dinwiddie of Fowler, Mrs. William C. Ball, of Muncie and Mrs. Otto Rott of Bloomington. As the secretaryship always goes to the city chosen for the conference, Mrs. Henry A. Beck's name was presented by her chapter and she was duly elected. The only contest was for the position of vice regent, in which Mrs. Ball was opposed by Miss Julia Landers of Indianapolis.—Kokomo Tribune.

The local delegates returned home last evening.

CONCERNING THE FEDERATION.

An excellent program has been prepared for the Richmond convention of the State Federation of Women's clubs, one full of business sessions, which are life and hope of the organization. The work of the standing committees is hardly understood and appreciated, some of the members having been great forces in bringing about improved conditions in our state.

The keynote of the convention will be "The Childhood's Bill of Rights." Noted speakers will talk of the environment of the child, with many views from infancy to old age. The following will be the program of the business sessions:

On Tuesday afternoon will be held meetings of the executive board, board of directors and council at 2 o'clock, a conference of the district chairmen at 3 o'clock and a reunion of the charter members and pioneer club workers at 4 o'clock.

On Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock there will be standing committee conferences, with special programs.

On Wednesday afternoon is the home economics session. Miss Isabel Bevier, dean of domestic science of the University of Illinois, will talk of "Domestic Science and the Home"; Mrs. Olaf N. Guldin will tell of "The Field and its Possibilities"; and Mrs. Albion Fellows Bacon, "The Housing Problem"—wonderfully magnetic speakers with a message.

The program of speakers and entertainers will be as follows:

Thursday afternoon is the child's session. Frank S. C. Wicks will discuss "The Value of the Child Conservation in Indiana"; Calvin N. Kendall, "The Schools for the Child"; and Graham Romeyn Taylor, "Recreation and Social Welfare," illustrated by stereopticon. These are talks that every club woman should hear and take home to her community. At 4 o'clock an organ recital in the beautiful Reid Memorial church. The evenings will be brilliant occasions, feasts for the soul.

Tuesday evening Richmond will welcome you through her distinguished citizens and our president's address will sound the keynote, inspiring courage, hope and enthusiasm, after which the federated clubs of Richmond will give a beautiful reception in the new Art association galleries, where the annual exhibit is taking place.

On Wednesday evening you will be pleased to hear Mrs. Martha Evans Martin (author of "The Friendly Stars") who presided when our federation of clubs was organized twenty-one years ago in Richmond, the anniversary of which we are now celebrating in the hope that since we have reached our majority we may be allowed to vote for the child's interest, at least. Your soul may reach unknown heights as you follow Henry Turner Bailey in his address on "Emerson, the Poet Seer," and listen to "Sea Fairies," sung by a double quartet of women.

Thursday evening Mrs. O. P. Kinsey will talk of the Cincinnati biennial and lead you up to the grand climax: Mrs. Emily M. Bishop's reading of "Dramatic Scenes of the United States Senate." There is only one Mrs. Bishop and you will laugh and perhaps cry as she impersonates the senators in their debates on the tariff and other subjects. It is an insight into the United States senate that you never had and will never forget: "Out of their own mouths ye shall know them." It is really a great object lesson, done by a woman with rare quality of penetration. Have your husbands come to escort you home. They will enjoy Mrs. Bishop.

So you see there is no best day—every day is full of things you cannot afford to miss. Plan to come early and stay through it all.—Ft. Wayne News.

Fresh supply of Mrs. Austin's Famous Pancake Flour. Now at your grocers.

OWENS VALLEY ROAD

(American News Service)

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 14.—The last project of the late Collis P. Huntington will become an accomplished fact tomorrow when the final spike is driven in the new railroad through Owens valley, marking the practical completion of the new road. Railroad men regard the Owens Valley line as not only a great enterprise, but by far, the best route ever opened in this section. The road has been built for a four fold purpose—to head off the Western Pacific from an easy way fertile and rich region by connecting Los Angeles and Owens Valley; to open a new tourist route from California to the east, and to relieve freight congestion that ties up California every year just at the time the oranges are ready for shipment.

WED IN A CLOISTER

Child Married Without Herself or Nun Standing by Knowing of It.

FATHER IS UNDER ARREST

Chicago, Oct. 14.—A remarkable tale of a marriage performed in the House of the Good Shepherd, with the lattice work of the cloister intervening between the two principal parties and without the knowledge of the bride or of a nun who stood near by, startled even the most blasé attaches of the criminal court yesterday.

After hearing part of the evidence Judge Marcus Kavanaugh brought matters to a sharp climax by issuing warrants for the arrest of the alleged husband, the father of the girl and the justice of the peace who performed the ceremony on a charge of "conspiring to do an illegal act injurious to the administration of justice."

The justice of the peace involved is Alfred F. Tompkins of Oak Park, who is the son of a retired Methodist minister of Evanston. He insisted he had acted in the matter innocently and in good faith, although admitting he had been fooled and had been negligent. Tompkins was released on a temporary bond of $2,000. The other two defendants were put in jail.

The matter arose in the morning when Charles La Coppola, a fruit dealer, was arraigned for trial for a serious assault upon Angelina Matteo committed June 29 in the rear of his fruit store on Western avenue. He pleaded in defense that he was married to the girl.

This, if true, would have ended the case, but Judge Kavanaugh was incredulous. He learned the girl was only 14 years old, and that since the assault had been kept at the House of the Good Shepherd until brought into court for the trial of the case.

Tompkins was named as the justice of the peace who had performed the ceremony, and he was summoned to appear at the afternoon session.

The girl was examined. She admitted that La Coppola, her father, Savarino Matteo; her sister, Mrs. Theresa Grotto, and another man had visited her last Sunday, but she denied absolutely that any marriage ceremony had been performed.

Her only action during the interview, she said, was to reach her hand through the wicket in the lattice work and shake hands with La Coppola as he was leaving.

"Did any one tell you that you were married?" asked the judge.

"No."

"Well, my folks thought this was about it. They thought if I married him I would be released from the school."

The authorities have completed their investigation of the robbery of the Austin millinery store, shortly before Maulee was arrested. They have not fastened any suspicion on Maulee for this burglary.

Fresh supply Mrs. Austin's Famous Buckwheat Flour at all grocers.

MEET AT SCRANTON

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 14.—Scranton extended a hearty welcome today to scores of delegates and visitors who arrived for the annual convention of the Pennsylvania W. C. T. U. The reception of the visitors and the opening formalities constituted the program for today. The regular sessions will begin tomorrow and continue until Tuesday. The officers in charge of the convention are: President, Mrs. Ella M. George of Beaver Falls; vice president, Mrs. Kate Ritenour, of Uniontown; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Emily Clark Scott of Pittsburg; recording secretary, Mrs. Sylvia B. Norrish of Sayre; and treasurer, Mrs. Leah Cobb Marion, Ulysses.

MAULEE TRIAL DATE

William Maulee, the engineer at the Westcott hotel, who was arrested on September 26th and charged with the theft of personal property from guests of the hotel will be tried on a charge of grand larceny on October 26 in the criminal court. It is probable the trial will be before Judge Fox and not the petit jury.

The authorities have completed
